

Questions:

Fiction novel, about book itself, the author (how he made the book), and responses / reactions to it

Home page: general overview

Break down of page: three sections, main text about the house, character writing the footnotes / comments, letters at the end

Reception / legacy: reviews, if people have made their own content

For mock ups: try out layouts to see if more simple works better or more directly related to disorienting themes / house / maze

Imagery:

- more mirroring what the text actually looks like
- Found documents and photos, collage
- Light and dark (dark hallway in the house)
- Things shifting or changing size over time
